

SUBJECT LINE: Oswego Author Kristin Walker Releases Debut Novel

Dear _____,

Oswego resident Kristin Walker's debut young adult novel A MATCH MADE IN HIGH SCHOOL will be released on Feb. 4 from Razorbill, an imprint of Penguin Group. Walker is an Oswego resident of five years and a former librarian at the Oswego Public Library.

In addition to her book's release, Walker will be hosting a book launch party on Feb. 13 at The Little White School House in Oswego from 2-5 p.m.

In her free time, Walker enjoys spending time with her husband and her three sons, volunteering at her children's schools and participating in a local book club.

This is Kristin Walker's first novel. Her work has appeared or is forthcoming in Ladybug, Wee Ones, and two Chicken Soup for the Soul books.

If you are interested in more information about Kristin Walker or would like to schedule an interview, please contact Jessica Lawlor at jessicallawlor@gmail.com or please call 215-327-5018.

Kristin Walker grew up roaming the Pennsylvania countryside. She finally landed at Penn State, where she earned a BA in Theatre Arts. In addition to being actor, Kristin was many things on her way to becoming an author, such as a lifeguard, a nanny, a beginning ballroom dance instructor, a library circulation clerk, and very nearly a nurse. A Match Made in High School (Razorbill/Penguin Group) is her first novel. Kristin lives in a Chicago suburb with her husband and three sons.

Thank you,
